Sightseeing Ship Plunges Into Cornfield Near Airport From Altitude of 100 Feet.

By the Associated Press. DANVILLE, Ill., Sept. 12.-Four persons were killed yesterday when an airplane crashed near the Municipal Airport.

The dead: Peter Britz, 41 years old, owner and pilot; Charles Companion, 48; Harry Ice, 40, and James Kincade, 38, all of Danville. Witnesses said the plane plunged into a cornfield from an altitude of about 100 feet as the party was re-turning to the airport after a 10-minute sightseeing trip over the

We Revolutionize Prices on

Big Rugs are in demand today, while the demand for 9x12's is dwindling. We went to the makers of these Rugs and said: "It's all wrong to cut the prices on 9x12's, and penalize the many people who need big Rugs. We want to give our customers bargains as great as the 9x12's." They saw the wisdom of our argument. As a result we bring you oversize Karastans and Karashahs—at dramatically lower prices.

Deposition Hearing Thursday. Testimony will begin Thursday in a deposition hearing in the Finan Commissioner's suit to recover $5450 in profits and commissions from the Dickmann firm. The suit, filed Saturday in Circuit Court, alleges the Dickmann company profited wrongfully in the sale of eight properties of the closed Lowell Bank to Mrs. Cecelia Ross, alleged to be a straw party for the Dickmann concern. She is a sister of Alois O. Stemmler, office manager of the company, which acted as agent for the bank in the deal.

William H. Allen, former Judge of the St. Louis Court of Appeals, was appointed as special commissioner to preside at the deposition hearing. The appointment was made today by Circuit Judge Charles B. Williams on application of N. Murry Edwards, counsel for the Dickmann company. Time of the hearing was fixed by

Time of the hearing was fixed by agreement between Edwards and Richmond C. Coburn, representing the Finance Commissioner.

Subpenas for Mrs. Ross, Stemm-ler and Otto Dickmann have been issued at Coburn's instance. He wants to ask them what they know about the Dickmann company's sale of the Lowell properties to Mrs.

Sam Michelson Drops Offer.

Louis White, attorney for Sam Michelson, the real estate dealer who offered $62,000 for 20 pieces of real estate of two closed banks, sold by the Dickmann firm to Nat Glick for $58,750, obtained permission to-day from Circuit Judge William S. Connor to withdraw the offer.

White explained that his client did not want the offer to stand pending the appeal granted to Glick on Saturday from the order setting aside the sale, because of uncertainty of the real estate market and possibility of depreciation of the properties. After invalidating the sale on his own motion, Circuit Judge Robert J. Kirkwood said he had taken judicial notice of "ugly rumors" and that he would be derelict in his duty if he did not see the banks' depositors got all due them.

An unusual situation occurred at yesterday's meeting of the Central. Trades and Labor Union, when four of nine unions which were reported to have reached a two-year agreement with the Arena, 5700 Oakland avenue, objected to taking the firm off the unfair list.

William M. Brandt, secretary of the Arena management had agreed to employ only union labor, members of nine locals, for two years. Brandt's motion that the firm be taken off the unfair list was opposed by delegates from the Theatrical Brotherhood, and the Cooks, Waiters and Building Service Employes' Unions.

The Theatrical Brotherhood had complained that a phrase in its section of the agreement was unsatisfactory and representatives of the three other unions objected to taking the Arena off the unfair list until the phrase was changed. A motion to accept Brandt's report and declare the firm "fair" carried by a vote of 71 to 29.

Sheppard's Letter.

Morgenthau made public a letter to Sheppard asking him to advise in what respects he thought present Treasury rules as to political activity by its employes falled to conform to the law. The letter was written prior to the committee's action on the Magruder incident. Several weeks ago, when Morgenthau was in Europe, Sheppard expressed the opinion that a Treasury rule permitting voluntary contributions to party campaign funds conflicted with the law, if the funds were used to aid the candidacy of a Senator.

Morgenthau said the rule was based on opinions given by the Attorney-General in 1896 and in 1992.

Ald of Velter Diese

Morgenthau said the rule was shown in based on opinions given by the Attorney-General in 1896 and in 1902.

He added he was determined that the conduct of Treasury employes be above reproach and asked Sheppard for an elaboration of his views.

MAN RETURNED TO CITY IN COUNTERFEIT BOND SALE

nett W. Bowdry, Ex-Convict, Un-locessful in Resisting Extra-dition From Oklahoma. Innett W. Bowdry, a former nvict, unsuccessful in resisting extradition from Oklahoma to face charges here in connection with the sale last month of two counterfeit bonds of the New York Central Railroad, was returned to St. Louis yesterday by airplane from Tulsa

He told police that he had used the name of C. W. Hale in selling bonds to the A. G. Edwards & Sons brokerage firm, 409 North Eighth street, but said he thought them to be genuine. The firm paid $1544 for the bonds. The money was deposited in Hale's name and $826 of it checked out before the bonds were discovered to be counterfeit. Bowdry, 50 years old, said he resided at Oklahoma City. In 1928, he was sentenced to two years at the Federal Penitentiary at Leavenworth on a narcotics act constitution.

Paul Dean Impressive in Comeback, Beating Pirates As Cards End Home Stay

By James M. Gould

After a brief and decidedly unprofitable home-stay during the course of which they dropped four out of their five games with the contending Cubs and the leading Pirates as their opponents, the Cardinals today are on their way East where, tomorrow, they open a series in Philadel phia. They will return Sept. 27 to finish out a drab 1938 season.

But the Redbirds, before they left, gave the fans something to talk about in yesterday's final with the league-leading Pirates, which the Birds won by a score of 6 to 4 efore a paying crowd of 15,739.

Paul, sold down the river to the Texas league, this spring, made a fine impression as he undertook the none-too-easy task of subduing the league leaders. Perhaps, on the face of the statistics, his pitching lidn't border on the marvelous but in the pinches, his work was all that. The Pirates got to Paul for an even dozen safeties and the total included two home runs and three doubles. Nevertheless, the returned wanderer did a nice job.

His control was nearly perfect— he walked but one man—and he struck out seven. Moreover, he seemed to be as strong at the fin-ish as at the start and a lot less ervous. He really was fast when he wanted to be but, as he said self after the game, "I was only bearin' down when they had men on." This statement is certainly borne out by the details. Six of the 12 Pittsburgh hits came in the

In the ninth, Todd started with a homer but Paul remained unflurried, made pincher Jensen foul out to Padgett, got Lloyd Waner out to Padgett, got Lloyd Waner on a grounder to Mize and made brother Paul Waner send a fly to Bordagaray to end the game.

Polo Title Won By Old Westbury, 36,000 at Match

WESTBURY, N. Y., Sept. 12.— The leading candidate for the 1939 United States international polo team, which will play England early next season, apparently is not any individual but a team—old Vestbury.

The powerful quartet of Mike Phipps, Cecil Smith, Stewart Igle-hart and C. V. Whitney won the National Open title for the second year yesterday, again defeating Tommy Hitchcock's Greentree four score was 16 to 7, even more decisive than the 11-6 score of last year's final

A crowd of 36,220, largest in the history of the event, saw Old West-bury play better polo all the way ugh Whitney was injured ear in the game when his cousin, John Hay Whitney, who plays back for Greentree, missed a shot and struck him with a mallet. In the fifth period Smith was thrown and kicked by his horse but remained n the game.

Smith, one of three 10-goal players in action, and Phipps, rated at nine goals, did practically all of Old Westbury's scoring. They made seven and six tallies, respectively.

Coroner Frank Frazier said Billings was a former convict who served a prison sentence some years ago for killing a man with a knife.

The Sheriff said the boy admitted the killings and then exclaimed, "I guess I'm crazy. I got into a quarrel with the old man over money."

Madsen said the youth had been reported seen near the blazing farm home at which the bodies of farm home at which the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Jama and Alli Jama's body was found in the bedroom of his burning house, and the bodies of his wife and adopted daughter were discovered beside a smouldering haystack near the barn. A light shotgun lay across the women's bodies, and two discharged rifle shells were found near the house.

Madsen said the women had been shot and apparently dragged from the house to the barn. Yern had lived with the Jamas and was to have been adopted by them, the Sheriff said. A note found at the farm, said

Madsen, read: "I got so mad at my foster parents that I thought it best to kill them, and I killed Harry Yern and put him in the lake." It was signed "Alli Jama," but the Sheriff said he doubted she Madsen said he learned Miss Jama had obtained $2000 recently, and that, since the Jamas apparently did not deal with any bank, the money may have been kept in the house, which was virtually destroyed

The price of aluminum is one of the most important things in the world to us, as producers of this metal. The price has to be right for the user if we

People don't have to buy aluminum. They can always say, "It costs too much", and use some other material. As we look back, it seems as though every policy of this company has grown from the idea of making a useful metal of good quality cheap enough to enable it to compete with other metals, some of which are thousands of years older. The reason ours is a successful business today is because we have made aluminum cheap.

As recently as 1926 we had to sell bulk aluminum for 27 cents a pound. By 1929 we had found ways to reduce the costs and could lower the selling price to 24.3 cents per pound. Today, although on an average the workers in our plants receive about 30% more for making a pound of aluminum than they did in 1929, the base price is only 20 cents a pound.

Considering the great difficulty of getting aluminum out of its ore, 20 cents is a low price. Frankly, we are a bit proud of the efforts of our research men, engineers and production experts which have made such a price possible.

MR. BILBO'S "MAIN FIGHT."

Senator Bilbo-The Man Bilbo of Mississippi has chosen his mission for the next session of Congress. Emerging from a conference with the President, he told reporters:

My main fight in the next session of Congress will be to double the present old-age pension rate of $30 a month. The old folks should have $60 a month—half from the Federal Government and half from the states.

This vocal concern for the aged, uttered with the White House as a sounding board, may help the Senator politically, but actually it has nothing to do with the amount of old-age assistance in Mississippi. The State of Mississippi will have to increase its own appropriation more than six-fold before the present limit on Federal participation in old-age assistance becomes more than an academic issue.

The Federal Government will now match state old-age assistance appropriations up to $15 a month per person. If Mississippi were taking full advantage of this law, it could be paying its indigent aged $30 a month. Actually, the checks are averaging less than $5 a month, which means that the State is willing to put up less than $2.50.

Obviously, if Senator Bilbo wants to help the age of Mississippi, he should center his efforts on getting the State of Mississippi to raise its appropria tion. And what is true of Mississippi goes also for nearly every other state in the Union. According to the latest figures at hand, California is the only State which is going the full way toward matching what the Federal Government is willing to con

If the needy aged of Mississippi think the matter through, they will see that Senator Bilbo was guilty of a cruelly false attempt to make political capita of their plight.

The Road Ahead for America

Time has come to reduce economic inequalities and spread benefits of Machine Age if disaster is to be averted, St. Louis business man writes; indorses objectives of New Deal in this direction, but hopes for more efficient methods and correction of abuses; sees greater Federal control as inevitable if country is to make progress.

N every great economic transition, the pioneers have been branded fanatics, radicals and dreamers. Such criticism comes invariably from that group of the population which has in the main benefited the abuses of the time and the inequal-

I say that not as a radical, but as a conservative: a conservative by heritage and a conservative by reason of my place in the economic picture. I recognize, however, that as civilization progresses, inequalities, which are a part of life in all its aspects, must from time to time be lessened, un-less catastrophe is to be the result. No sensible person desires revolution or upheaval, but at the same time realizes that where progress stops, reaction sets in.

I write not for any political party or any man in public office. Interested in the future of America, I am convinced that unless a greater percentage of our vast popu lation can enjoy more of the abundant life, future generations may see America dom-inated by a tyrant, as the result of oppression and abuse.

Something must be done to lessen unem ployment and flatten out the peaks and valleys of depressions, which seem to be inevitable characteristics of our present industrial capitalistic system. To enable consump to keep pace with ever-increasing production, the result of technological improvements, increased purchasing power must be more widely diffused among the masses.
Accomplishment of these objectives is a colossal task, the achievement of which cannot be expected overnight.

It is equally evident that something must be done to protect the little man from domination by monopoly, without, however, sac-rificing savings to the masses through the economies of mass production. The investor must be safeguarded from unsound financing and the sale of questionable securities to the public, whereby the workers' accumulated savings of many years may be dissipated. Investment is very properly a field for Government regulation, with due recognition of the fact that cap-ital is always needed by business for ex-pansion and progress, so that greater com-forts of living may ever be made available to the public, and the great latent resources of our country continuously developed.

Likewise, women and children must be protected against exploitation by the minority. Social intelligence alone has not been able to achieve this objective, and therefore government is surely entitled to step also into this picture.

Interpreting the lessons of history to find a solution for the present problems, President Roosevelt and his New Deal sense that the masses desire greater Federal control the masses desire greater Federal control and a more vigorous action on the part of the Government whereby quicker action may be effected. Many people may not like this transition, but it seems to me it would be well for them to reconcile themselves to it, and recognize that further centralization of power is inevitable.

Whether future administrations be Democratic or Republican, or known by some other designation, the trend is clear; and the road which they must follow has been clearly marked. There is no turning back.

ARMOUR & CO. DEMANDS AID OF POLICE IN SITDOWN STRIKE

Concern Says Meat Spoilage a Kansas City, Kan., Has Caused $52,000 Loss Already. By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Sept. 12 .-Edward M. Boddington, company attorney, demanded today that Armour & Co. foremen and non-strik ing employes be given police pro-tection to move "7000 head of dressed meat and millions of pounds of sausage meat rapidly be-coming unfit for consumption." A sitdown strike was declared Friday at the plant by a CIO union.
"A mob is in the very act of de stroying valuable property." Bod-dington told Acting Mayor George T. Darby. "The damage is not the result of any violence or sabotage, but of the company's inability to move its product.'

Following a conference with Charles Eikel of Chicago, an Armour evecutive, Darby appealed to both plant and union executives to settle the difefernces which resulted in the strike of many of the 1800 employes.

Strikers late yesterday halted activities of men who were loading meat into refrigerator cars. In ofrmed by Government inspectors that the meat probably would spoil without refrigeration, the strikers sumed their sitdown.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 12. -

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 12.—Company officers attributed to vandalism today the cutting of wires which isolated this city from telephone communication with the outside world for nearly four hours late Saturday night.

Failure of leased news wires followed by inability to complete long-distance telephone calls sent emergency crews of workmen looking for the trouble. They found all long-distance wires leading into the city had been cut. Service was restored early Sunday morning.

Company officers said the cutting apparently was done deliberat.

ting apparently was done deliberat-ly, but found no trace of the of-fenders and could offer no motive for the act. Telegraph wires were not disturbed.

Heartbreak, humiliation, hurt and hate-the World has one cure for them all-forgetfulness. Don't think about them, don't talk about them-forget. At first, that may seem the only way, the intelligent, well-bred, dignified way to meet our losses and failures. But it isn't! For those who have the courage to take it, there's a wiser way . . . a nobler and far more profitable way.

DON'T TRY TO forget your bitter memories. Don't try to seal them in your heart. Uncover them! Admit them! Share them! Use your hurt to heal another's-and drain the poison from your own! Half of your misery lies in the feeling of alone-ness. A little while ago, you were part of the living, laughing world. Now you are suddenly shut away by a bleak, blank wall, shut in alone with your wailing grief.

But you need not stay shut in alone! Beyond that wall, out in the world, there are thousands who are suffering just such grief, just such shame. Once you could not have understood their agony, but now you can. Now, if you will, your eyes may open to a new understanding, your heart may warm to a new sympathy. Just by saying, "I, too, lost my darling!" . . . just by confessing "I, too, once made a dreadful mistake!" . . . Just by admitting "I, too, once harbored a secret madness of hate" you can break down your wall . . . you can break the seals to that other life.

DON'T TRY TO FORGET! Don't waste or lock away any part of your existence. There is no experience, however harsh, which cannot be used to broaden and enrich your own life and heal some others—if you will share. Dare to live! Dare to remember! Dare to share! Share the shame and the pain as you would share the Holy Communion. "This is My body-broken for you . . . This is My blood . . . Eat . . drink . . . remember-" Out of the past, the blessed words come down, to show the way, the way to life-by sharing.

WELL, I'LL TELL YOU—By Bob Burns
HERE'S no question Bout it—a city has more advantages for the ess man than a small town, but that don't mean that the city nan is any smarter than his country cousin. Some years ago, an advertising man in a city made himself famous and rich because he suddenly discovered that it pays to advertise and a business should keep its name before the public all the time.

Forty years before that, the editor of the Press Argus, down home tried to get John Hink to advertise his furniture store and John Hink says, "I don't have'ta advertise it-I've been here 30 years and everybody knows I'm in business." The editor says, "Yes, John, but our church has been standin' there over one hundred years, but they still ring the bell every Sunday!"

So it was fitting that when at ast he achieved his ambition, brought his canoe to this country and paddled the length of the river to Baton Rouge, La., he should start from Hannibal, birthplace of Mark Iwain. Fitting, too, that his cruise. all that he had expected it to be, finished, he should, as did Twain, write an account of it. His account, recently published by Houghton Mifflin Co., he calls simply "Down the Mississippl," but it is an inter-esting commentary on the eccentric-ities of Americans as observed along the river by an Englishman. The commentary is seldom unfavorable, though, for Maj. Raven-Hart instinctively liked the river people; the mere fact that they chose to live on the great Mississippi was to him well nigh a virtue.

Most incomprehensible to him was the emptiness of the river of traffic, of the failure of those who live along it to put it to use Rare cances in the vicinity of towns, somewhat less rare motorboats, a moonlight excursion boat, and the river seemed abandoned to barges, noe with its two paddlers, himself and a young companion. Importance of Good Defense In Bridge Game

How Careless Play by De-clarer Enabled East to Defeat Contract.

THERE are many ingredients in the concoction known as good defense. Two of these are outstandingly important. First, a player must be able to "read" a lead. He must recognize whether the leader may have certain cards or whether the lead in itself is a deviated of such a helding. Once this whether the lead in usen nial of such a holding. Once this point is settled, the second prerequisite becomes fairly simple: select another suit that may declarer, for reasons best known to himself, won with dummy's king. He entered his own hand with a heart to the ace, and returned a diamond toward dummy, finessing the ten spot. East won with the queen and gave careful consideration to his return. The play of the spade king on the first trick had been highly informative, although, of course, declarer had not realized that that could be the case. West's opening lead of the spade jack opening lead of the spade jack could have been from only one og two combinations. It was, of course, the top of a sequence, but it might be from a holding of J 10 9 x, or from A J 10 9 x. Which it was could be determined only by consideration of declarer's play. If declarer's spade holding had been the current without the current with without the current with without the current without without without the queen without the ace, he would not have dreamed of putting up dummy's king. The GALLEY ROYAL DAUPTIN CARRYING 230 MEN EQUIPPED WITH 26 BANKS OF OARS - EACH OAR 40 FT. LONG AND MANNED BY 5 ROWERS WAS BUILT IN 10 1 HOURS!

800 LABORERS STARTED AT 6 30 AM. AND FINISHED AT 5 P.M. MARSEILLES 1679

In July, 1679, they expected the King of France to review the French fleet at Marseilles. In order to impress the g with the efficiency of the navy, the Intendant of Marine, Brodart of Marseilles, built and launched a galley in 2 hours. The galley was named Dauphin Royal. It was equipped with 26 banks of oars, each oar 40 feet long operated by 5 rowers, a total of 130 rowers. In addition, the galley carried 100 marines. At 6:30 a. m., 800 ores began to build it. At 5 p. m. the same day it was finished and equipped, and the General of Galleys, Duc Vivonne, the Minister of Marine, Seignelay, and de Noailles, Lieut General of Galleys, made a trip in it to the tor Replaces Ritchie as Rival of Clark for promise' Candidate or Presidency.

RAYMOND P. BRANDT,

SHINGTON, Sept. 13.—The of Senator Millard E. Tydover Representative David J. in the Maryland Democratic orial primary yesterday was harpest rebuke administered to ident Roosevelt this year for intervention in local political ies of the two candidates subordinated to the principles ed, and the President and his including Postmasteral-Democratic National Chair-Farley, were repulsed by an essive anti-New Deal and processive anti-New Deal and proud majority. hatever the outcome in the gla senatorial primary tomorwhere Senator Walter F. ge is battling the New Deal as personified by Federal let Attorney Lawrence Camp, next week in the Sixteenth New Congressional District, where ongressional District, where an John J. O'Connor of the Rules Committee is facing rmidable administration op-n through James H. Fay, the t in Maryland foreshadows a defiant Congress next year indicates that President Rooseis making little headway in efforts to liberalize the Dem-tic Party. Rival for Senator Clark. o make Tydings, now 48 years the same sort of contender for Democratic presidential nomin in 1940 as the late Gov. Al-C. Ritchie of Maryland was in 1928 and 1932; that is to say, entative of the conser and "states' rights" elements Democratic party. As such comes a rival of his persona d, Senator Bennett Clark of iri, frequently mentioned as red "compromise" candidate 1940 convention.

Although Mr. Roosevelt not mention Tydings' name in Labor day speech at Denton, Labor day speech at Denton, the Eastern Shore of Maryland, made it abundantly clear that full support was behind Reparative Lewis. In addition, he yed the rollitary yed the political game to the it by virtually promising a $3,100 bridge at Morgantown.

irman Farley for the first inches blicky took part in a local contest bringing obvious pressure on eral prominent Federal office-ders in Baltimore and through-er the week-end the Post-Dis-th correspondent on a motor of the Eastern shore was told Democrats and Republicans that President's speech at Denton hurt rather than helped Repuntative Lewis. The almost nimous feeling in this oversimingly Democratic region was also reasonable to the resident of the resident elmingly Democratic region was of resentment at the presiden"invasion." Paradoxically, howr, the same residents declared the Denton speech had insed rather than diminished the sident's personal popularity, and
